“ Jewell was just as her name states. She was such a lovely and determined woman for what she believed in and protective of her family and friends. I truly delighted in being her friend and Sister. It is very sad to know that she has fallen asleep in death however she and we know this will only be a temporary cessation. Her body needed to rest and for that we do understand however missing her will continue and cannot be avoided. I will miss the phone calls and deep conversations she and I shared. Like the scriptures say, and just a little while longer and death, pain and sorrow will be done away with that is a promise from Almighty God in the Bible book of Revelation chapter 21 and verse 3-5. May the God of peace comfort you all as life continues forward and until we see Jewell once again.
