

Blanche E. Tinsley

January 24, 1932 - April 23, 2015

Passed peacefully in her home in Temple Hills, MD on April 23, 2015. She was the beloved wife of the late Erastus Ralph Tinsley, Jr., loving mother of Deborah Tinsley of Clinton, MD and the late Erastus Tinsley, III. She also leaves four grandchildren, Jean Burns, Erastus Ralph IV, Terry Walker and Reuben Bennett, II; and a host of other relatives and friends. Funeral Services will be held on Tuesday, May 5, 2015 Viewing 10 a.m. until time of Service 11 a.m. at the Peace Baptist Church, 712 18th Street NE, Washington, DC 20002. Rev. Michael T. Bell, officiating. Interment Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

Tribute Wall

“ Blanche E. Tinsley

January 28, 2023 at 02:13 PM

“ Blanche E. Tinsley

January 28, 2023 at 10:26 AM

“ Dear Deborah!

*We've been friends forever...at least it seems like forever. We've been there for each other during some of life's most difficult times, sharing advice, wisdom and comfort...we've been there for each other to applaud the daily victories and celebrate the life-changing events that only true friends could know the real importance of...Tiaras, crowns and coronets were made to show off the life of Blanche Tinsley...she is the Duchess of everything today! With our days at Virginia State College behind us...her joyful spirit is evidence of a grateful heart! I still miss and savor the roast beef sandwiches carted weekly in the Pontiac Trans Am. "Ya'll be careful on the highway", she would say. But we all knew her prayers surrounded us on our journeys back to college. Know that I love you so much and our friendship will never, ever stop!
"No doubt about it! God is good..." Psalm 73:1...Yvette & William, II/The Medleys*

Yvette Medley - May 05, 2015 at 08:50 AM

DR

“ Praying that God will comfort you during this time. Although I didn't know Aunt Blanche for a long time, her spirit definitely made me feel warm as she was filled with so much life and joy. Definitely cherish the time and memories you had with her because after meeting her I know they will last a lifetime.

Donna Rojas

Donna Rojas - May 04, 2015 at 08:26 AM