

Ms. Christine Fullard-Pitt

December 20, 1948 - September 29, 2023

Christine Fullard-Pitt affectionately known as "Butter" was born in Horry, South Carolina on December 20, 1948, to the late, Jessie Williams (Father) and Elva Williams (Mother). Christine was the fourth eldest of 9. She is preceded in death by siblings Charlie Fullard, Bertha Crossland, Lurie Littlejohn, Joseph Fullard, Carlton Fullard, Shelia Williams, Tyrone Williams. She was a devoted mother to her late son, Christopher Bradley, her surviving daughter, Angela Wright and son-in-law, Wayne Wright.

She received her primary education from Cedar Creek of South Carolina. Christine and family later moved to Washington, D.C., where she attended her secondary schooling at Spingarn High School. She furthered her education at Rockhurst College where she studied nursing. She was certified in Information and Engineering Technology, as well as Constructive Conflict Resolution and Business Grammar & Usage for Professionals.

She later entered the administrative workforce and served as Secretary for the Department of Defense for 39 years at the Pentagon. She faithfully served for the Federal Government as liaison to public and private internal and external management entities, namely the Central Intelligence Agency and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. She was the epitome of resilience. Christine worked at the Pentagon during the tragic 9/11 attacks in 2001 and was later recognized for her bravery.

Christine was a faithful servant who loved the Lord. Her favorite scripture was Psalm 46:1-5. She was a pillar of strength to her family and friends. She was notably stylish, family-oriented, bold, beautiful, loving, courageous, wise and radiant. She enjoyed traveling, nurturing her plants, and going for walks. Christine was an avid Redskins (Commanders) fan.

Christine leaves to cherish her memory, daughter, Angela Wright, son-in-law, Wayne Wright, sister, Trena Adams, grandchildren, Christopher Toland, DeJuan Toland, Lolisa Toland, Nicole Wright and Shanice Wright and great-grandchildren, Emani, Jada, Madison, Sage and Christopher Toland Jr., and dear friend, William Pitt. Christine will be missed by colleagues, friends, and a host of family members.
