Fond memories of the day she accompanied her mom to the office (she was between the ages of 5 and 6), and she took over my computer. I told her that I have work to do and she responded, "I have work to do to too," and continued typing on my computer. 💕💕💕

So young luck luck I remember when I first met you , from taking my green camera to walking to your school to get your stuff, when I say these days been hard it's been hard I miss the person I actually called my second sister and hurts
