“ My daughter Korene and I were so glad to meet with Mrs. Jemmott last June when we were in the Washington DC area visiting my mom, who is Mrs. Jemmott's neighbor. We shared a lot of memories of yesteryears. She shared how she used to watch over me from her home. She used to make sure that I got home alright when I did crazy hours trying to get through school. I am going to miss her dearly. However, I am rejoicing in the knowledge that she is at home with the Lord. A strong and precious person, full of convictions. We used to have good conversations.

“ I was saddened to hear of Mrs Doris’ passing. It’s nice to think of her and grandma up in heaven side by side again, with all their friends, having tea and cutting up with one another. I hope that everyone in her family is eased to know that she’s no longer in pain, and that I hope she’s resting now ❤️

“ Ms. Doris was a much beloved member of our extended family – at least we felt she was! She met Mom, Eleanor sometime around the 1970’s and they were fast friends from that point on. Their friendship grew and deepened over the years. All of my siblings would make visits to see Ms. Doris and hear her and Mom talk of the news of the day, the growth of families, and any other topic that came up.

After Mom passed in 2016, my husband John and I spent numerous afternoons talking with Ms. Doris. She was always a joy, quick of wit, determined in her way, and very loving. She deeply loved her family and loved to tell us stories of growing up in the Islands. Her passing is hard for us, but we take comfort in knowing she is visiting with Mom again, and having a wonderful time talking! We will miss her dearly.

We send our deepest sympathies to Charles, Paulette, and the entire family.

*Sincerely,
Tish Toner*
