“ Many years ago, his daughter Deborah Ann, took me to visit 'Dad Lindsay'. When we entered his home Debs hugged and kissed her dad. When I caught his eye he asked me who I was and I answered "I'm the Filipino daughter you never knew about". He looked up at the living room ceiling as if trying to remember which Filipino lady I looked like during his tour of duty in the Philippine Islands. It always brought great laughter to all of us. Now as we bid him farewell as he takes his leave of us we feel all the love we have for him. It is just now our love is felt as grief. It's all the love you want to give but cannot. All that unspent love gathers in the corners of your eyes, the lump in your throat and in that hollow of your heart. Grief is just love that has nowhere to go.

“ Loved our long walks in the woods at Aunt Ilas' house in North Carolina when I was a kid. He taught me what animals to look out for when we walked.
Summers were special when we enjoyed cracking crabs on his steps.
His loving kindness will be missed..
