“ Dr. Bostick was a caring and supportive person for me in the field of world languages. He nominated me for positions and encouraged me to keep reaching for higher goals. He did this deed for many others.

I send my sincere condolences to his family.

“Dr. Herman Bostick recommended me for a position as Instructor of Spanish at Howard University in 1978. I joined the faculty in 1979 and worked closely with him until his retirement in 2005. After his retirement, we remained professional colleagues and friends. Dr. Bostick was one of my mentors and staunch supporters during many years. I will always remember his outstanding dedication to foreign language education and to the professional development of foreign language teachers especially at the Historically Black Colleges and Universities. I can share many anecdotes of my time spent with Herman Franklin Bostick, but for now, I will conclude that he was an extraordinary contributor to foreign language education and to many humanistic causes. His love for Morehouse College, his alma mater, was always a constant topic in our conversations.
