“ Panny was an ambassador to New York for those of us coming to live in the big city from rural Virginia. He introduced me to the city, took me to lunch, and by example, taught me how to handle myself as a city person, without making me feel ashamed of my country self. Underneath that gruff and serious exterior, resided a kind heart and wise eyes. Thank you Panny, rest well.

My deepest condolences to the family, and especially Junior and Darin. We love you and our prayers and thoughts go with you today and always.
