“ Another thing me and Joan used to enjoy is walking down to the Chop House on 7th Street NW for lunch and ordering a salmon BLT and a Long Island Iced Tea (and yes, with alcohol). The waitress would say "a Long Island Iced Tea"? We would say, "yes, please". It was 11:30 AM! But we lunched from 11:30 - 12:30. Sometimes we had one iced tea before we ate lunch and one afterwards. But you could do stuff like that with Joan -- drinks for lunch and back to work (and that was our business and no one else's). The waitress would sometimes smile and call us "real women". Joan was so much fun go hang out with.

“Joan loved celebrating life. She was my friend and when things were difficult in my life, Joan would say “you receive not because you ask not; all things are possible through God”. Joan was the vehicle God chose to assist in restoring my faith in God. We traveled to many religious ceremonies together. Joan was my sister, mentor and friend. Joan will be missed.

“Many of my fondest memories at the Office of Human Rights were me and Joan trying to figure out or get to the bottom of all kinds of situations. I referred to her as “Sherlock #1” and she called me “Sherlock #2”. We eventually referred to one another as only #1 and #2. Once me and Joan were sitting on a wall outside of the DC City Council Chambers when it was located at 441 4th Street NW; the council was in session. We were out there smoking cigarettes and drinking sodas (and trying to figure out something) when Council Member Hilda Mason came out and laid into us and ran us away because we could be seen by all. It was embarrassing because eyes were still on us, but it was really funny!!! Me and Joan enjoyed being around one another. My condolences to the family.
