“ 25 yrs ago I meet Natasha in high school. We became sisters so of course I had to meet my new parents. New parents allowed me to start joining them on their annual weekend getaway every spring. Dad would drive, give the realest conversations and dj, he kept this particular cd on replay. After 2 years I knew every word to the songs, downloaded my own cd. I didn't realize at the time dad was giving me a life lesson. To this very day, whenever something challenging happens in my life if I can't get to the music I'll at least sing the words in my head to get through

*You've got to tell yourself
Try and you will progress
There's more to life than you know
Don't give up the fight
Take one day at a time
You've just got to have hope, so*

Loose Ends "Don't be a fool"

Dad! Thank you for being a FatherFriend, I Love You... you're adopted daughter the other Natasha

Your dad was so funny. He made me laugh all the time. He was the best friend to my husband Ricky. They have been friends since childhood and they shared a birthday. He will forever be missed. Tasha is our goddaughter. We have shared every important event in our lives. He was in our wedding and Ricky was in part of his wedding. Tasha was our first baby before we had our own. Ratt you will be forever a part of our lives. God bless and keep Cynthia, Benji and Tasha and the grandchildren. Love ya ❤️❤️❤️
