“ 2-22-22 - Its my 30th birthday today. I miss you more than words can describe. I KNOW life would be so different if you were here. I know your still here spiritually. I can still feel you guiding me, but I miss you everyday. I understand your way of being more now that I'm older. I have so much more appreciation. I can't turn back time but I'm still trying to make you proud from way above. I love you papi...que sigue descansando en paz <3
