

Kathryn Danielle Brown

February 9, 1987 - May 28, 2021

Kathryn Danielle Brown, Departed this life at the age of 34 on May 28th, 2021 in her hometown of Washington, DC.

Kathryn was born February 9th, 1987 to Robin Jackson and Johnson Brown JR "June"

A naturally talented writer, and compassionate person she always aspired to help others. She was most recently a studying recovery coach and an administrative assistant for a home health care business.

She was preceded in death by her father who also departed may 28th three years prior and is survived by her daughter Olivia, two nieces, Sydney and Skylar, nephew Jackson, five brothers, Kevin, Jason, Sharriek, Malik, Joseph, and one sister Shalisha.

Some of her most acclaimed accomplishments were getting her GED in Colorado, overcoming her fear of driving, getting both a license and car as well as settling in Pennsylvania in hopes of creating a new life with her daughter. Kathryn was a deeply caring and vocal soul, praised for her fierce perseverance, and everlasting optimism. It was this fierce and firecracker-like spirit that earned her the nickname of Little Iodine by her maternal grandmother, who she honored with a tattoo of a pansy on her arm.

“ *Ms. Jackson and Family,
I am holding your family in deep love as you navigate all that may be arising at this time.*

*Kathryn was my first mentee--I was one of her tutors when she was at Maya Angelou. We are both Browns, so we always joked about being related. She was always a bright light who put effort into her work. We last spoke about two years ago, I think. She was going through her Recovery work, and updating me on her life with Olivia.
More recently, I enjoyed her motivational posts. And I was always paying attention to the trajectory of what she was doing and how she was moving in the world.*

It has been difficult to grasp that she is no longer with us in this world. Please know that Kathryn was and is profoundly loved. Her light will remain in my heart and that of many others. My deepest condolences to all of you.

In Love and Light, ~Dr. Charli Brown
