“ Uncle Lloyd you will be truly missed. I will always remember your free spirit, your cowboy boots, your dancing and hearing about your time on the “dude” ranch and let’s not forgot your ribs, yum, yum. Every family and friends function was always glad to enjoy. May you now be at peace with a heart that will now work forever. Tell the other family members, especially my dad Oliver, to continue watching over us.

“ Cousin Lloyd was a great guy. He was my sister Gwen and myself first landlord when we first moved to the DC area. He loved his country music, square dancing, and cowboy boots. He had boots on the ground long before it became a fashion statement. (smile). His presence will be missed by those who knew and loved him. Take your rest cousin Lloyd and rest easy. Gwen Carter and Kathy Hudgins (daughters of the late Perry and Cleeda Thompson, Warsaw, VA.)
