“ My heartfelt sympathy to the Brown Family at this sad time. Mike exemplifies the virtues of a good leader, positive in attitude, faithful to mission, humble in service, and charitable to all. Mike will be missed at National Weather Service headquarters for being a beacon of light and a cheerful spirit to the workplace. Thank you for your service, Mike, and may you always rest in the peace of our Lord Jesus Christ, amen.

“ Dear Brown family....my heartfelt condolences go out to you. I cannot imagine what you are going through...even as we try to come to grips with Mike no longer physically being with us. In the 21 years that I have known Mike, he has been a wealth of knowledge, kindness, comedic relief, wisdom....and the list goes on. To say that he will be sorely missed...is an understatement. I am grateful for the legacy that he left with us. We all are better and do better as a result of knowing him. I will miss our conversations...."Mercedes vs. BMW""D.C. Politics and Mayoral Observations"...and the like. And No Mike...I'm still not going to "Hold down the Fort" even now. Mike you were truly one of a kind. I consider myself fortunate to have known you while being here at NOAA. You will forever be cherished in our minds...and hearts. You have completed the course here in Life and Living University (LLU) and have passed with flying colors...doing all that you needed to do....You have graduated and are now in the Master Class!

I will keep you all lifted in my thoughts and prayers for strength and comfort in the days ahead.

“ This caught me by surprise. Just 2 1/2 weeks ago Mike emailed me a detailed description in answering various work related scenarios regarding "EMRS". I was impressed by his quick response and thoroughness. I met Mike 20 years ago during a presentation he led at the NWSTC. Comments by those who spent much more time around him sends a message of how great a person he was. For the family, I pray for strength and understanding. I am sorry for your loss.

“ Our thoughts and prayers go out to Mike's family. The EMRS Group is deeply saddened by his passing and we will miss him very much. Mike was a supportive, fair and caring leader and a true professional. He was a person of high integrity and never spoke an unkind word about anyone. We are lucky to have known him and worked for him for many years.

*With respect and appreciation,

“ I am beyond shocked by the passing of Mike. I do not know how the EMRS group will be able to completely function without your guidance, Mike. We have lost a great and compassionate supervisor who worked tirelessly for the NWS organization, we have also lost the engine that run the EMRS group. Mike, you made sure the EMRS group had its i's dotted and the t's crossed. You cared about well being of your co-workers. Mike you will be dearly missed, EMRS will never be the same without you. We have lost the pulse and soul of our group. We are all heartbroken. My condolences go to Lisa, Monique and Kendell. Rest in peace Mike. Betty Mutagwanya-Mokaya.
