“ My Deep Condolences to the Family of Morris Izlar.

I worked with Morris for many years at the old Civil Reference/Military Branches, National Archives and Records Administration, at the Washington National Records Center. He was a great colleague who worked very hard in providing the excellent reference provided by those branches, which, located in Suitland, were out of sight and sometimes out of mind of our administrators downtown.

Morris, through virtue of his hard work, and great knowledge of the "stacks," was appointed team leader, where his knowledge of both military and civil records was called upon time after time. As I said, we were the best reference branch in the National Archives, and Morris was a big, big part of our activities.

If I may be so bold, I'd say that Morris had the classic "gruff exterior," and the "heart of gold." He was always willing to help out the "archivists," and had a sly humor that was always appreciated during our trying times out in those "hinter lands."

After we moved back to Archives II in College Park, I am afraid I moved on from the world of reference, but was always happy to run into Morris from time to time, still in charge, still working hard, still with that quiet sly humor. We need that humor in NARA.

I am so sorry that Morris did not have a longer time to enjoy the leisurely pursuits of a very well deserved retirement. I take comfort in knowing that a man like Morris is in Heaven, and that perhaps I will run into him in those Halls.

Again- My Deepest Condolences to Morris's Family and Friends.
