

Norma T. Simmons

July 24, 1924 - September 14, 2015

Norma T. Simmons, departed this life on Monday, September 14, 2015. She was predeceased by her son Terrell Simmons. She leaves to mourn her loving and devoted daughter, Lolita McIntosh; granddaughter, Terri Simmons and a very devoted friend and companion, Ray McMillan. Norma had a great zest for life and enjoyed bowling, playing bridge and listening to her vast collection of jazz music. Norma also leaves behind very dear friends, Louis and Barbara Garner and their children, Jason and April; as well as a host of other family and treasured friends. At her request, there will be no funeral or memorial service – preferring to be remembered as she was back in the day.

Tribute Wall

“ Norma T. Simmons

January 28, 2023 at 02:13 PM

“ Norma T. Simmons

January 28, 2023 at 10:26 AM

“ I did not know Norma long---she befriended me when I first started playing bridge and introduced me to some people in the "bridge world". Altho I did not know her a long time, I had an instant fondness for her. I am really sadden by her death. Carolyn Ford

Carolyn Ford - September 21, 2015 at 05:55 PM

“ *Dear Lolita McIntosh and Family,
We the members of the Washington Bridge Unit will truly miss the pleasantry that Norma brought to the tables when playing bridge with us. Our thoughts and prayers are with all of you today. Please do not hesitate to call on us.
Sincerely,
Virginia Brockington, Amenities Chair
Elizabeth Moseley, President
Washington Bridge Unit*

Washington Bridge Unit - September 21, 2015 at 05:51 PM