“ Reggie had a special place in my heart. As young-marrieds, our two families shared the madness of small children and transitioning into "full" adulthood with its many responsibilities. Special to me was sports, basketball in particular. That was a bond that will always be there.

Through the years I grew to admire his care for his children and children's children. Our prayer is that his love and care will not be forgotten by his children, siblings and extended family.
