“ You will be missed. My big sister my first cousin . I will never forget you. You would always pick me up from the bus station when i would come from PA to DC. Never asking for one red cent. Even when I would say i have to pay you something. You gave me my first place to stay when i started working in DC. Never asking for nothing. Always building up. Heaven has gained a Angel. Until we meet again. I love you and will miss you.

Aunt Renae

The life of the party, the light in every room, the one who held us steady when life felt too heavy.

As the eldest of six, she lived that role with love. She gave everything she had—guidance, comfort, help, always showing up with open arms and a full heart.

Her laughter could lift you from the darkest place, her presence could calm any storm. She made every burden lighter, every gathering feel like home.

To me, she was a second mother, a shelter, a fierce and quiet love. Losing her leaves an ache I can't fully name, but the love she poured into us lives on.

So here's to Aunt Renae, our guide, our laughter, our anchor. May her warmth stay with us always, a light we carry through even the hardest nights.
