“ I always loved my interactions with Renee. Although I didn't see her very often, I have many quality memories of her that will keep her with me forever. She always encouraged me spiritually to trust God to take care of people and situations I was worried about. She always made me laugh with her dry humor (My favorite quote of hers: "Some things make me go from zero to 'Bitch' in less than 60 seconds!" to describe how some things can especially irritate us). I also learned practical things from her like how it's easiest to get all the meat off a rotisserie chicken when it's hot. Such a well-rounded person! I will always remember her intelligence, wisdom, and strength. My deepest condolences to her family and friends. --Kelly Nedved

“ Renee and I worked together for 18 years.. We did so many joint tasks together at the College of Southern Maryland: Women in Technology, Math Day, Integrative Learning Institute, Kids College and so many other things. She loved her students and education. I will miss the conversations about encouraging young adults, minorities and women to get involved in Technology careers.

She will be missed !!

“ I worked with Renee for almost 20 years at the College of Southern Maryland. I got to know her when she volunteered to stand up an all-girl Robotics team in the community. She was a role model for other coaches with the patience and kindness of a saint. She genuinely cared about her students at the college, and she will be missed by everyone.

“ I teach at the College of Southern Maryland (CSM) and got to know Renee once her Technology Department was combined with my Business Department. I will miss talking to Renee about societal issues impacting education. She was a dedicated teacher and mentor to her students and will be missed by all at CSM.

May her memory be a blessing.

“ Renee was a very intelligent, interesting and concerned person; we spent a good bit of time together at week-long summer classes for faculty at Radford University and NOVA. Renee was always fun to talk with and had unique insights into several issues we discussed. We will keep her and family in our thoughts and prayers.

“ I met Ms. Renee at the yoga studio and I had just come from a class my friend Joey was teaching. I sat next to Ms. Renee without thinking, it felt like my energy was just drawn to her and although I don't remember all the details of our conversation, I do remember how she made me feel. I remember her looking me in the eyes and how warm as well as loving that she talked to me. She made me feel worthy of her time and attention which is hard these days with everyone being in a hurry to get somewhere. Ms. Renee seemed to slow the world down and really pour love into my spirit. I carry that lesson with me today, that it is important to slow down our worlds and just love the people right in front of us. I am grateful for her and the love she decided to give me that day. I will walk with this knowledge that love is a decision and I will choose it and give it differently based on the example Ms. Renee set for me that day at the yoga studio.

So I just got the news and while it makes me sad it also makes glad that I have reason to be because I called her friend. As so many others witnessed, she showed us all what resiliency looks like. With an infectious bright smile that made you respond in kind is how my heart remembers her....go rest high on that mountain Ms. Renee 🙏❤️

“ My sincere Condolences to the Family of Renee Jenkins. Renee was a true friend [faith building, encouraging, creative and knowledgeable]. I enjoyed her sense of humor to the point of tears and being unable to talk. I learned many lessons through her humor. She was an outstanding true Educator in so many ways. Sincerely, Carol Feaster
