OBITUARY:

Robert James Contee Jr., a devoted father, beloved family member, loyal friend, and respected member of his community, passed away leaving behind a legacy of love, presence, and generosity that will live on in all who knew him.

Robert was a man who understood the true value of time. He did not measure life by accomplishments or possessions, but by moments shared. He spent his time showing up for the people he loved, offering laughter, thoughtful advice, listening ears, and steady support during both joyful and difficult seasons. Those who knew him remember a man who made others feel seen, heard, and important.

He lived with intention and patience, never rushing through life, but instead giving his time freely and wholeheartedly. Whether in conversation, in quiet reflection, or in the company of family and friends, Robert's presence was a gift that many cherished.

Though his passing leaves an immeasurable space in the hearts of those who loved him, his memory remains alive in the lessons he taught, the love he gave, and the countless moments that will be treasured forever. His life is a reminder that the measure of a person is not found in how long they live, but in how well they spend the time they are given.

He is deeply loved and will be profoundly missed, but his family takes comfort in knowing he is now at peace, free, and at rest.

Robert's legacy continues in the hearts of those who carry forward his kindness, his wisdom, and his love.

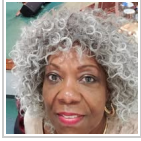

Lovingly remembered and forever cherished by his family and all who had the blessing of knowing him.

Services are private and the family requests that in lieu of any flowers a donation may be made to the American Cancer Society, dedicated to the memory of Mr. Robert James Contee Jr. www.cancer.org

“ I will always and forever remember and honor the life of a remarkable man; my father, Robert James Contee Jr.

I am not overwhelmed with grief, but with gratitude, as I reflect on how precious TIME truly is.

TIME is a silent gift. It doesn't announce itself, and yet it's all around us, always moving, always slipping away. We rarely realize how valuable it is until we start to measure it; not by clocks or calendars, but by the moments we wish we had more of.

My dad understood the importance of time. He spent it showing up for his family, for his friends, and for his community. He spent it in laughter, in quiet advice during hard moments, in long talks that you never wanted to end. He spent his time being present with the people he loved.

If you knew my father, you knew a man who didn't rush through life, but gave his time generously. He made you feel seen, heard, and important. And now, even as our hearts break in his absence, we carry that gift with us. The time he gave us, the memories, the love, the wisdom, is still here. It always will be.

I have learned that the measure of a life isn't found in how long we live, but in how well we spend the time we are given.

You are FREE pops, you finally got your wings - so fly, fly, fly high as the days are long and don't look back! We love you. We miss you. And we will carry your time in our hearts, forever.

*Love, Always & Forever,
Your Beautiful Daughter*
