“ I do not know where to begin. I am your first born grandchild. Our bond started the moment I entered this world on September 1st. I can still recall vivid stories you would tell me about how you and mama would take me on Saturday mornings to the Strawberry Patch... LOL... even though I was too young to pick Strawberries, you just wanted to have something fun to do with me.

We shared alot of "first"... but my fondest "first" memory will always be of you walking me down the aisle on my wedding day. I lost my father a few years before my wedding day, and the moment you found out Tony and I were getting married, all you said was "whatever you need me to do". It was an HONOR to have you by my side on such an important day in my life.

I will always cherish the memories of your infectious laughter; your smile; and how much YOU LOVED YOUR FAMILY!!! I will carry on your legacy of rooting for the Redskins, no matter how often they lose :). It still does not feel real, but I know you are in a peaceful sleep - no longer suffering or in pain (although if you were in pain, you NEVER would let us know because you did not want your family to worry about you).

Life will be different without you, but I know you would want us to remember the good times with you and not focus on the sad time of not having you around. A famous person once said "I get so emotional daddy; every time I think of you. There is no one else like my daddy". You were my second dad even though you were my grandfather. You took me and all your grand-kids and raised and loved us as if we were your own.

You will ALWAYS BE MISSED.

Love Always,

Holly Pryor

“ Dada - the man that raised me, the man that showed me unconditional love no matter what, the man that was my cheerleader for everything I did - big or small, the man that called me first thing in the morning to see what I was doing (i'm talking 7a on a Saturday) lol, the man that I shared a birthday with (July 15th).... I can still hear you saying “Treeeeena”! Lol Dada always said my name like that! Lol

Your journey to recovery after your strokes in 2018 was hard but you pusheddddd and pushed as much as you could. You endured a lot and remained strong; I believe it was for us.

I can't imagine not having you around, not being able to hear you talking to anybody that would listen to you about anything - especially the Redskins! Lol

I will ALWAYS always love you Dada! You were the best example of a genuinely loving person. You have ALWAYSSSSSS been there; even in the nursing home, you kept up on what we're all doing.

So glad I was able to tell you THANK YOU for everything❤️. I Love you Dada!

Absolutely beautiful, and you have your DaDa's same spirit.

Although our encounters were few, but the stories of the band and how Windex would cure anything was priceless. What a great soul and may he rest in peace.
