“ By love, they are remembered, and in memory they live. Even in your sorroe, I hope you can hold on to the thought that life lived with so much love never really ends, but goes on forever in the hearts of those who remember.

“ I just wanted to extend my deepest prayers and condolences to the Calhoun family in the loss of a beautiful soul. I knew Wanda from work but hadn't seen her in some years once teleworking became more popular. I do recall all of our conversations being pleasant and full of laughter. In these days, living a life well lived (full of purpose) and making sure every moment counts is even more prevalent today. May she rest in peace!
