“ Dean and I worked together at DOS Protocol for many years. She was the most humorous person and could make me laugh when pressures in the office increased. There are endless memories from our collaboration to prepare for state/official visits for over 15 years. My fond memories of working with Dean at the Blair House as we executed the visits are vivid. The foreign leaders, diplomats and delegations found her to be an absolute delight.

When Dean felt strongly about something, nothing and no one could stop her. Her concern for the welfare of others was exceptional. Dean was the force behind the approval granted by the Chief of Protocol & ranking officials to allow the visit officers to overnight at Blair House on the evening of the state/official dinners. Due to the late hour and a near car wreck by yours truly, Dean pushed forward non-stop making the case regarding the dangers/strain the hours and work caused. Her solution was well received and valued by her teammates.

Dear Lewis family, thank you for sharing your "one in a million" loved one with us. My family and I pray for you daily. We hope your fond memories will lighted any pain that you feel. Her legacy lives on in each person that she impacted.

Deepest condolences,
Tanya Turner and family

“ I am so sorry about your loss. Losing a loved one in death can be one of the most difficult challenges that we face in life. But you are not left alone to cope with your loss. God hears our cries for help and he will answer them. He promises to be there for you and to fortify you. (Isaiah 41:10) He also promises that one day soon he will swallow up death forever, and sickness will be no more. (Isaiah 25:8, Isaiah 33:24) Until that day comes, may God comfort you and keep you in his loving care.
